"Hey beautiful souls, I'm John Strickland and I believe that we're all going to the mountaintop. We may be on different paths, but we're all going to the same place. I'd love to talk with you about your journey. You see, I believe that everyone has a spark of Divinity inside, but most of us forget that a lot of the time. Let's see if we can help each other remember who we really are and release our imprisoned splendor ... no pressure, no judgments, just a lot of fun and support as we climb the mountain."
